Report: Debate on Policy Analysis
Date: December 17, 2018
Time: 10:30 AM - 11:30 AM
Venue: Room No. 403
Participants: Approximately 28 students
Target Audience: TYBA Political Science Special students

Introduction:

On December 17, 2018, the Department of Political Science at Haribhai V. Desai College of Arts, Science & Commerce organized a stimulating debate on Policy Analysis. The event aimed to foster critical thinking and analytical skills among the students, particularly those pursuing TYBA Political Science Specialization.

Objective:

The primary objective of the debate was to provide a platform for students to engage in meaningful discourse about policy analysis. It encouraged them to explore various dimensions of policy-making processes, understand different policy frameworks, and evaluate their implications on society.

Participants and Audience:

Approximately 28 students actively participated in the debate, representing diverse perspectives and ideologies. The audience comprised fellow students, faculty members, and guests interested in political science and policy matters.

Format:

The debate followed a structured format, beginning with an opening statement by the moderator, followed by individual presentations from participants. Each participant was allotted a specific time frame to present their arguments, followed by a rebuttal session where participants could challenge each other's viewpoints. The debate concluded with a closing remark by the moderator, summarizing key insights and highlighting areas for further exploration.

Topics Covered: The debate covered a wide range of topics related to policy analysis, including but not limited to:

- The role of government in policy formulation and implementation.
- The impact of globalization on domestic policy agendas.
- Ethical considerations in policy-making processes.
- The influence of interest groups and stakeholders on policy outcomes.
- Comparative analysis of policy frameworks across different countries.

Key Highlights:

- Diverse Perspectives: Participants offered diverse perspectives on policy analysis, reflecting the interdisciplinary nature of political science and the complexity of policy issues.
- Engagement and Participation: Students demonstrated active engagement throughout the debate, presenting well-researched arguments supported by relevant evidence and examples.
- Critical Thinking: The debate encouraged critical thinking and analytical skills among students, prompting them to critically evaluate existing policies and propose innovative solutions to contemporary challenges.
- Constructive Dialogue: Despite differing opinions, participants engaged in constructive dialogue, fostering an environment conducive to intellectual exchange and mutual respect.

Conclusion:

  The Debate on Policy Analysis at Haribhai V. Desai College of Arts, Science & Commerce served as a valuable platform for students to deepen their understanding of policy processes and enhance their analytical capabilities. Through meaningful discourse and critical reflection, participants gained insights into the complexities of policymaking and its implications for society. The event underscored the importance of informed decision-making and collaborative efforts in addressing pressing socio-political issues.
